

Pari Karim

Pari is a Senior Consultant at inQUEST.

For over a decade Pari Karim has helped corporate, non-profit, government, and academic clients manage and resolve conflict in the workplace and beyond.

Pari is an experienced facilitator, trainer, mediator, and speaker known for her engaging and relatable approach to learning. She is committed to the idea that learning comes through experiencing and interacting. Her current focus is creating more sustainable workplace cultures through the exploration and development of diversity and inclusion, communication, and feedback competencies. Pari's approach to instructional design focuses on creating opportunities for practical application and collaborative learning.

Pari is very active as a mediator and trainer at the Center for Conflict Resolution in Chicago, where she has been a volunteer since 2008.

Pari graduated from Chicago-Kent College of Law in 2010, earning her J.D. with a certificate in Labor and Employment Law. Additionally, she earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree in History from the University of Texas at Austin in 2006.

"DEI to me is about our humanity - how we intentionally or accidentally create cultures around us. DEI helps us understand how we can engage in purposeful ways to create deeper connections and leverage our individuality in ways that strengthen our teams, communities, and organizations."

 Find me on LinkedIn

Pari is an expert in:

- + Training and Facilitation
- + Organizational Mediation
- + Conflict Resolution
- + Performance Learning

About inQUEST

We're building inclusive cultures for a world in constant change—helping individuals, teams and organizations think, lead and interact inclusively.

inquestconsulting.com